PROSPECTUS
"THE AMERICAN ORGAN."
A Daily and Weekly Paper, published in Washington, D. C., by AN ASSOCIATION OF NATIVE AMERICANS.

WE have reached an important crisis in our pe-litical history. The two leading parties in our country, hitherto separated by broad lines, either of principle or of policy, differ now nearly in any thing but in name.

A National Bank, formerly an essential point of difference between rival parties, has now no advocates.
A Protective Tariff for the sake of protection, which one of the most able and distinguished of our National Councils, has become obsolete, and a question of party policy simply because a "revenue tariff" affords incidentally protection to American Manufactures. A modification of the details of our present tariff system is all that is demanded by the most strenuous advocates of protection to American Industry.

The distribution of the proceeds of the public lands among the several States, as formerly claimed by one party, and the application of those proceeds solely in the aid of the National Treasury, as claimed by the other party, have both yielded to compromise. These questions, so far as at least, as to sink these questions as issues between Whigs and Democrats. A plan formed of a compound of "squatter sovereignty," of graduation, and of a "surrender to the States" in which they are, seems likely to withdraw the public lands from the arena of future party contest.

The improvement of harbors and rivers by congress-sional aid, on which political parties have hitherto differed at different times, has now become less a question of principle than of local and sectional content; and it will doubtless be adjusted by the next Congress, upon that basis of liberality and justice demanded by the spirit of the age and the true interests of the country.

Other questions, of minor importance, on which, at different times, the two prominent parties of the country disagreed, have now, by a change of circumstances, become obsolete. What, then, remain as issues of any theoretical or practical importance between Whigs and Democrats? We know of none; and if these hitherto rival parties should maintain their respective organizations, they will do so for the mere sake of the spoils of power!

But new issues have arisen, having no reference to the party organizations of Whigs and Democrats—issues which are rapidly important in their bearing upon the future welfare of the country—and which issues must, in their discussion, progress, and termination, annihilate these two parties, which, for years past, have battled, with alternate success, for political dominance.

A new era is at hand—an era which will be characterized in the future history of these States, as the era of PATRIOTISM! Throughout the length and breadth of this great and glorious Union, the masses of the American people have spontaneously and simultaneously started the inquiry—What new American CAPABLE OF GOVERNING THESE STATES? This inquiry is as universal as it is natural and pertinent.

The response is being given in the thousands of associations springing up in all portions of the United States, and resting on the single basis, that the nativ-born citizens of this Union have the right and the will to administer their own Government, to protect the rights which they have inherited, and to perpetuate the freedom and independence of their nation!

Shall we trace the causes of this spontaneous and united uprising of the masses of our countrymen? The evils incident to the individualism and selfishness of foreigners into our country—the consequences of permitting such immigrants to enjoy the right of suffrage—and the degrading effect of elevating foreigners to positions of honor and trust under our government; all these have been well known to our people for years past, and yet until now, with few exceptions, the American people have seemed to be blind to the progress of foreignism in the land. We need not, on the occasion of presenting this circular prospectus to the country, assign the causes for the sudden and general manifestation of the purpose of the American people to take the reins of government into their own hands; it is sufficient for the present and for the future to state the undeniable and obvious fact that such purpose exists.

We now come forward to present to our fellow-citizens the mode and means of concentrating the opinions and harmonizing the action of those who are disposed to unite in the formation of an "American Party," which shall be the only party in the land, and which shall have the right and the will to administer their own Government, to protect the
freedom and independence of their nation!
